Both Basketball Teams Earn #1 Spot in the Nation!

The latest NJCAA poll came out Wednesday morning, and the Hurricanes men’s basketball team maintained their spot as the #1 team in the country—but this week they were joined by the Lady ‘Canes, who moved up one spot to become the #1 team in the land. Louisburg is the first college to hold both #1 spots since 2006 when Kirkwood CC (Iowa) took the double honor.

This week’s poll is the fourth in a row where the LC men received the #1 ranking. The LC women spent the last three polls at the #2 spot, but their 13-1 record helped them jump up to the top spot in the weekly poll.

Both teams defended their rankings Wednesday night (1/23) in Region X Conference games. The women defeated Wake Tech CC in the Taylor Center, 85-55, and the men traveled to Wentworth, NC, where they seized the win against Rockingham CC, 132-80.

“Dreamers” gather for MLK Convocation

At Tuesday’s MLK Convocation, students, faculty, staff, and members of the community gathered to worship, sing, and listen as Bishop Hope Morgan Ward (North Carolina Annual Conference of The United Methodist Church) delivered her address, “Here Comes the Dreamer.” Weaving together Biblical stories with references to the Civil Rights Movement and the teachings of Dr. King, Ward eloquently described “the arc of history” that all dreamers envision and aspire to reach.

During the hour-long service, Rep. Bobbie Richardson, a Louisburg College trustee and member of the NC House of Representatives, brought greeting to the college community. Ms. Glendora Powell, professor emerita, provided piano accompaniment for Ms. Roberta Scott as she sang “Precious Lord, Take My Hand,” a favorite hymn of Dr. King’s.

A pictorial video was also shared during the service, created by LC’s Nicolette Stanfill and Rev. Shane Benjamin. Watch this stirring video here: http://ow.ly/h6w0q.
