

Louisburg College is sorry to announce that its Summer 2009 Science Camp has been cancelled due to renovations that are being made to the Science building. Refunds will be given to those who have already registered.